In Loving Memory of

Max Tillman Barron
(July 9, 1931 - January 13, 2010)

*The other day I got out my can opener and was opening a can of worms when I thought,
"What am I doing?!"*

Deep Thoughts by Jack Handey

For Our Dearest Father,

Max Tillman Barron

Max was born in Round Rock, Texas on July 9, 1931, and passed away on January 13, 2010.

The background is a textured, mottled brownish-gold color. In the upper right quadrant, there are two roses. The one on the left is smaller and more tightly curled, while the one on the right is larger and more fully bloomed. The word "Gallery" is written in a white, elegant cursive font, centered horizontally and overlapping the roses.

The background of the entire image is a textured, mottled brownish-gold color. In the upper right quadrant, there are two roses. The one on the left is smaller and more tightly curled, while the one on the right is larger and more open, showing its petals. Both roses are rendered in a light, almost white color, making them stand out against the darker background.

*We love you and miss you
Max. I am so glad that you were my father-in-law.*

The background of the entire image is a textured, mottled olive-green or taupe color. In the upper right quadrant, there are two roses rendered in a soft, painterly style. One rose is smaller and more tightly curled, while the other is larger and more open, showing its petals. The overall mood is somber and elegant.

Condolences

from the deepest of our hearts...

My deepest condolences. May these few words from the Holy Scriptures bring you comfort in your time of grief...

John 11:32-45

32 And so Mary, when she arrived where Jesus was and caught sight of him, fell at his feet, saying to him: "Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died." 33 Jesus, therefore, when he saw her weeping and the Jews that came with her weeping, groaned in the spirit and became troubled; 34 and he said: "Where have YOU laid him?" They said to him: "Lord, come and see." 35 Jesus gave way to tears. 36 Therefore the Jews began to say: "See, what affection he used to have for him!" 37 But some of them said: "Was not this [man] that opened the eyes of the blind man able to prevent this one from dying?"

38 Hence Jesus, after groaning again within himself, came to the memorial tomb. It was, in fact, a cave, and a stone was lying against it. 39 Jesus said: "TAKE the stone away." Martha, the sister of the deceased, said to him: "Lord, by now he must smell, for it is four days." 40 Jesus said to her: "Did I not tell you that if you would believe you would see the glory of God?" 41 Therefore they took the stone away. Now Jesus raised his eyes heavenward and said: "Father, I thank you that you have heard me. 42 True, I knew that you always hear me; but on account of the crowd standing around I spoke, in order that they might believe that you sent me forth." 43 And when he had said these things, he cried out with a loud voice: "Laz'ar-us, come on out!" 44 The [man] that had been dead came out with his feet and hands bound with wrappings, and his countenance was bound about with a cloth. Jesus said to them: "Loose him and let him go."

45 Therefore many of the Jews that had come to Mary and that beheld what he did put faith in him;

The background of the entire image is a textured, mottled olive-green or sepia tone. In the upper right quadrant, there are two roses. The one on the left is a smaller, tighter bud, while the one on the right is a larger, more open flower with many layers of petals. The roses are rendered in a slightly lighter shade than the background, giving them a subtle, embossed appearance.
